
STUDY GUIDE

Name: _____ Date: _____

CHAPTER 2: The Internet and Multimedia

I. How the Internet Developed

A. The Internet developed from a research project started in 1958 by the

B. Three inventions that spread the use of the Internet were:

1. (early 1880s) _____

2. (1989) _____

3. (1991) _____

II. Connecting to the Internet

In order to connect to the Internet, you must have:

A. A _____ that allows your computer to send and receive signals through telephone lines.

B. An _____, which is required for all home connections.

C. _____ software, which might need _____ programs to retrieve some types of medic applications.

III. Navigating the Web

In order to work with multimedia on the Internet, you must understand:

A. The _____ and its standard elements.

B. _____ and the information they contain.

IV. Searching the Web

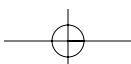

Use search engines to find the right Web page.

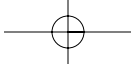

A. Create _____ that include keywords.

B. Use _____ search strategies to narrow your search.

C. Use the right search engine to conduct _____, more _____ searches.

continued ➤➤

STUDY GUIDE

Name: _____ Date: _____

CHAPTER 2V. Communicating on the Internet

There are several ways to communicate on the Internet.

- A. _____: Sent to a specific e-mail address. Can have attachments.
- B. _____: Often used to transfer large files from one computer to another.
- C. _____: “Virtual” rooms where you can exchange typed messages with others who are in the room.
- D. _____: Allows you to communicate in real time with one person.

