After You Read Answers

(Page 308) Section 11.1 After You Read Answers

Review Key Concepts

1. Team members use checklists, milestones, meetings, and timelines to evaluate and make good decisions about how to modify a project plan.

2. It is important to use timelines to track milestones, challenges, risks, and interdependencies in order to assess the progress, resolve issues, and deliver the desired Web site on time and on budget.

(Page 316) Section 11.2 After You Read Answers

Review Key Concepts

1. A timeline task list helps to identify the project's milestones, challenges, and interdependencies in order to determine the due dates by working backward from the date the site is scheduled to go live (be published). A detailed schedule makes it easier to determine how long particular stages of the project will take to complete.

2. In-house solutions use the company's employees to develop and maintain the e-commerce site. Web storefronts are businesses that help other businesses quickly and efficiently develop an e-commerce site. The storefront provides the human and programming resources to launch and maintain the site.